FOREWORD

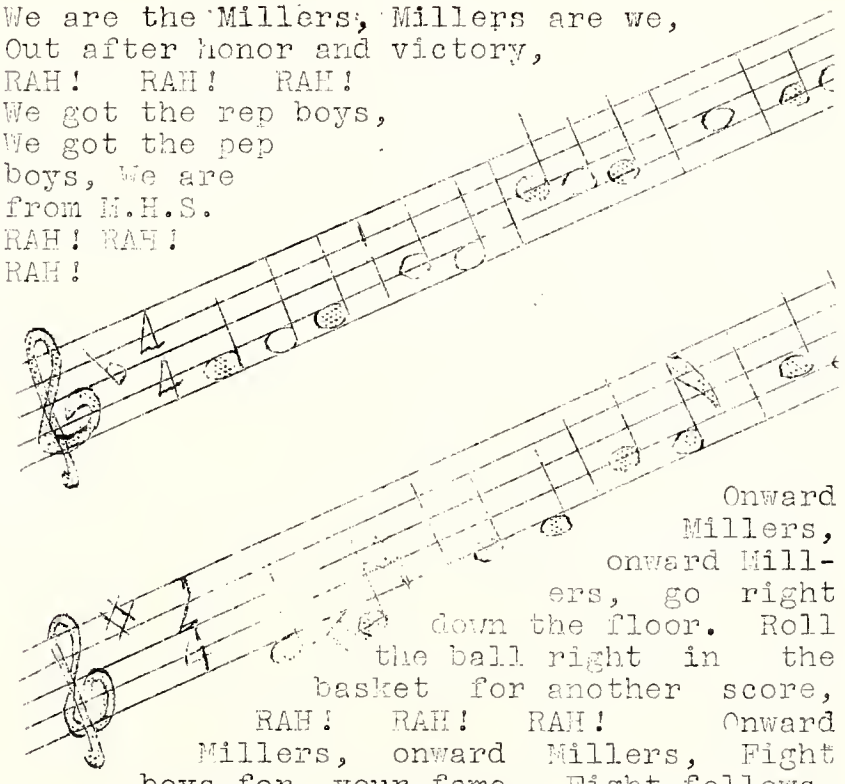
As in the days of ancient Persia, when flying carpets and magic lanterns were the media to life's pursuits, the seniors today search vainly for their fruits of life.

As each member of the class leaves school behind him he mounts the flying carpet and looks toward the magic lantern which is his goal. It is not reached by wishing as in those days but everyone must put forth his utmost effort to keep the carpet afloat and to achieve and reach the magic lantern,--his goal.

We are the Millers, Millers are we,
Out after honor and victory,
RAH! RAH! RAH!
We got the rep boys,
We got the pep
boys, We are
from M.H.S.
RAH! RAH!
RAH!



Onward
Millers,
onward Millers, go right down the floor. Roll the ball right in the basket for another score,
RAH! RAH! RAH! Onward
Millers, onward Millers, Fight
boys for your fame, Fight fellows, fight, fight, fight; We'll win this game!

Dedication

We, the Senior class of 1942 dedicate this Annual to our Alma Mater, which has given us co-operation, friendship, and our road to success.

Classes

The class of '42
Presents its last review;
We have proved with time
Our class motto:
"We build the ladder on which we climb."
We built it strong and sure,
To make our lives secure,
And now the way is clear
To reach the goal so dear.

Old H. H. S., 'tis true,
We owe much to you;
Through us you've shared your fun,
Your willingness--
To educate us one by one.
Your help was like a light
That shone throughout the night,
And like a beam it led
Us on to life ahead.

(Tune 'Sheik of Araby')

Class History

In the fall of 1938, 34 "green freshies" were wandering around the school house trying to find their class rooms and very successfully making friends with the upper classmen. Everything was different from what we were accustomed. At our first class meeting we elected the following officers: president, Ruth Rogers; vice-president, Theda Simmons; sec. & tres. Maxine Schrock; class reporter for Millerette, Lowell McClain; activities council, Raymond Hoffman, and sponsor, Miss Cripe.

We had the problem of making money which is a difficulty for any class. We decided that each student would pay ten cents a month for class dues. This plan has been carried out through our four years in M.H.S..

It was this year that we chose as out motto "we build the ladder on which we rise"; our class flower, the American Beauty; and our class color, maroon and silver, which stands for knowledge, truth and richness.

Three parties were held during that year; one at Audrey Berkey's another at Ruth Ann Conrad's; and our last one, the wiener and marshmallow roast, by the Elkhart River on the last day of school.

After a fine vacation the sophomores were back in school eager to start their second year. Nine from our class did not return; consequently, our class was decreased from thirty four to twenty five. Lina Belle Vance and Charlotte Tope joined us later in the year, which made our enrollment twenty seven.

We started out on the right foot by electing as our class officers, president, Ruth Ann Conrad; vice-president, Audrey Berkey; sec. & tres., Maxine Schrock; class reporter, Genevieve Rosentrader, and class sponsor, Mr. Bevington. The many memories of the year included the initiation party which we gave in honor of the freshman class. This has been a yearly activity for the sophomore class every year since then.

Other parties held this year were at Theldon Kline's, and the annual party on the last day of school. Later in the year we lost a member of our class, Carlyle Prough, because of illness.

It was this year that the girls won the inter-class basketball tourney. We also chose our class rings.

A little more dignified, we returned to school in September of 1941. Three members of our class dropped out and four new members, Donald Bunger, Junior Wortinger, Calvena Petgen, and Hazel Garber joined our ranks bringing our total to twenty eight. Later in the year Calvena Petgen and Louise Greff left their classmates to take up the duties as house wives. Class officers for this year were, president, Audrey Berkey; vice-president, Theldon Kline; sec. & tres., Theda Simmons; reporter, Luella Miller, and sponsor, Miss Zook.

In order to raise money for junior-senior reception we raffled away turkeys at a ghost basketball game that we sponsored.

Our class successfully produced the play, "Mr. Cook Takes Over."

Perhaps the biggest event of the year was the planning and preparing of the junior-senior reception. The gymnasium was very attractively decorated as a wigwam carrying out our Indian theme.

Two members of our class won the reading and oratorical contest this year. Ruth Rogers received first in orations and Theda Simmons second in the reading contest.

Father time moved so rapidly that we could scarcely realize that we were back in school ready for our last year. As seniors we took up our school work more seriously. Our class enrollment was twenty five. One new pupil, Mary Carpenter, added to our total; but we lost two of our friends, Donald Bunger, after a few months of school, and Donna Jean Radabaugh, who entered Elkhart High School.

We chose the following officers; president, Robert Rohrer; vice-president, Ruth Rogers; sec. & tres., Mary Carpenter, and sponsor, Miss Zook.

Soon after school started we chose our invitations and name cards for graduation. Our class pictures were taken January twentieth. We sold concessions at basketball games, raffled away turkys, gave a high school skating party at Rome City, sponsored a donkey basketball game, and gave the class play, "China Boy" which was well attended.

During our four years we had saved enough money to carry us through to our goal, graduation.

Our last semester was the publishing of the final edition of the Millerette which was dedicated to our Alma Mater.

As our parting days come to an end, may the magic carpet lead us to success and fame. Although the road be rough and steep, let us build the ladder to the best of our knowledge and strength, seek for a good reputation, and continue our good work as we have in our school days at M.H.S.

Senior Impressions

The sum of one's qualities, body, mind and character, that which makes one human being different from another, describes one's personality. Friendliness, humor and truthfulness describe the senior class in general, but now for a touch of the individuals.

Audrey Berkey. "Aud's" weakness is being present at a class or club meeting so she can "cease the motion."

Tall, slim Ruth Anna Conrad, "Connie," likes to giggle when she finds something to giggle about, but her mouth waters when she spies fried carrots.

Convict hair cuts describe Wilbur "Lightning" Hostetler. "Wilb rates first with his wise cracks in Economics Class.

While Luella Miller, "Lue", likes something to laugh about in physics class and likes to talk about that boy friend "Ray."

Junior Wortinger, better known as "Knute," says his favorite song is, "Big Bad Knute From the Bad Lands." He also has a slight weakness for blonds.

Fred Brock likes to talk back to someone. "Freddie" also likes the song "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia".

For Theldon kline, widely known as "Bud", school is rather boring at times he would rather spend his time around Benton and Goshen.

Ruth Rogers and Theda Simmons have sparkling blue eyes and cheerful dispositions. They are always around where there's work to do. "Sis" and "Sam" are active in sports and like anything that's fun.

Next to pop up on the list is David Dulaney. "Dave" is more the studious type and just likes to spend a peaceful evening at home with a good interesting book to read.

Claude Fisher is noted for sleeping in school, "Perry," you would look more comfortable if you would use a pillow.

Next to appear is Audrey Leek, "Leekie" likes to listen to the radio. She also likes to write catalogues, but she wouldn't admit it.

If you see someone running around school it is none other than our class president and editor-in-chief, Robert "Dynamite" Rohrer. Bob is very dependable and serious when it comes to business, although he is rather humorous.

Also another humorous person is Howard Swartz "Hod" is noted for his jokes and he also likes to see who can laugh the loudest in class.

Just opposite of Howard is Mary Carpenter. Mary proves to be quiet, dependable and well mannered. Mary says ice skating is one of her favorite sports.

Hazel Garber also is the quiet type, and her favorite hobby is reading.

Dorothy Livengood, sometimes referred to as "Dot," switches boy-friends quite frequently. I guess she wants to be different from some of the other senior girls.

After Dorothy comes brown eyed, Genevieve Rosentrader. You'll usually find "Gussie" in the midst of a group of laughing students. She's "mischievous" at times.

When you see someone busily go back and forth from the assembly to the library you'll know it's Charlotte Tope. "Lottie" enjoys the telling of instances in class.

A pal of Charlotte is Geraldine Charlton. "Gerry" is a rather quiet person and she's doing her duty for Uncle Sam by using his postage stamps to write to a young fellow in the Army.

Muscular strength seems to be the advantage that Ray Hoffman has over some of the other boys. In case you want a black eye or a broken nose, just call on "Stoney". I'm sure he'll fulfill your wishes.

As for Lowell McClain, he likes chocolate ice cream, and basketball is a favorite sport. "Mac" also states that he likes "brunettes!"

"Big Dal" whom you know is Dallas Schrock, likes to tease someone and enjoys seeing the other person lose his temper.

Concluding the line-up is Lina Belle Vance. "Linie" enjoys housekeeping. Perhaps that accounts for the diamond she is wearing.

And last but not least, I've enjoyed being one of the members of the Class of "42". --Maxine Schrock.

Class prophecy

Wait, wait, wait. That is all I've done for the last twelve years. I am waiting for a breeze to come along and lift me into the sky. Since graduation I have lost track of my classmates and I am taking the flying carpet in search of them.

Whoops! Here comes the wind, and here I go gliding through the air. Whoo-o, I just hit an air pocket and I'm going down.

How fortunate! The sign in front of me reads,"Swartztown, Penn. --Population 14,000,000." It sounds interesting so I think I'll look around. First I shall ask for information at this little house. "Hello, madam, could--" Imagine my surprise when I am met by no other housewife than Lina Belle Vance.

"Come in, schoolmate," she said, "and we'll have a little talk."

"I can only stay a few minutes," I explained, "and I am really seeking information about this town. Tell me some of the important points."

"All right, I'll be glad to," she answered. "You remember Howard Swartz? He was the founder of this town and at present he is the mayor. David Dulaney is the chief of police, and if you stay until morning we will go and hear Lowell McClain's orchestra at the Merry Garden Ball Room--and by the way, Genny Rosentrader is his soloist."

"Oh! I'm awfully sorry but the wind is just right for flying, so I must hurry on to New York."

Before long I glide through the air toward New York, and I can see the Empire State Building.

"Who is that sitting at the window on the top floor? Why, it's Geraldine Charlton, and the sign says "Private Secretary, Mayor of New York City."

When I reach the street this sign appears before me. "Tap dancing; ten easy lessons--Charlotte Tope, instructor."

Right next door is the Andies Candies Shop, where Dorothy Livengood is employed, and does she look different! But I guess that's what candy does to one's figure.

This has been a busy day, so I'll stop for a bottle of pop at this restaurant, But who do I fin here? --Luella Miller, as dish washer, and Knute Wortinger as the chef. That chef's cap makes him look at least eight feet tall. That pop really hit the spot, and now I'll head for Hotel Sasinac, where I hope to spend the night.

Is it any wonder the hotel is so attractive? Fred Brock is the manager, and the clerk is Mary Carpenter. After making all my arrangements, I'm taken to my room by the bell hop, Bud Kline. I always thought Bud would be an athlete, but I guess that was just another mistake. It feels good to be in a soft bed again. Before I know it the sun is in the east. It certainly looks nice outside! I can ride for miles today. By the way, where is my carpet? I'm sure I had it when I registered last night. Maybe I should inquire at the lost and found department. The manager of the department, I find, is Bob Rohrer and his office girl is Audrey Berkey.

"Bob, did anybody bring a carpet in here?" I asked excitedly."

"Yes," Bob replied, "there was an unusual looking carpet brought in here last evening, is this it?"

"Yes, that is the one. Thank you, Bob, I must hurry along because this is an excellent day for flying."

There are a few rain clouds overhead, but I'm going to try to reach some other town before it starts to rain. After riding the carpet for three hours, I am finally forced to land because of rain. Lucky enough I find myself in one of the largest cities of the United States--I have always wanted to visit Chicago. Now I have my chance. The first place I shall visit is Marshal Fields, since I have heard so much about it. During my survey of the department store, I discover that Theda Simmons has evidently reached her goal; at least she is a model in the fashion department. Now I believe I will take in the bowling tournament which I saw advertised on a poster. This,I learn,is a national tournament. What a bowling alley! And say, those bowlers are allright,especially the tall dark and handsome one. He has five strikes in that many frames. No wonder! It is Stoney Hoffman, listed as the champion bowler.

I could spend more time in Chicago, but since it has stopped raining, I shall start on my journey westward. After traveling several hundred miles, I find myself on a steamer in the Pacific Ocean. I wonder if I should explain the reason for my presence to the captain. Where are his quarters! I've looked everywhere but all I find is a room marked "Beauty Salon--Maxine Schrock, operator." Upon inquiry, I find that the captain is Dallas Schrock.

"Pardon me, Captain Schrock, but the lack of a breeze has caused me to land on your ship. Was I mistaken or did I see Wilbur Hostetler scrubbing the top deck?"

"Yes," replied the captain, "he is the favorite of all my boys so I put him on top. Are you in a rush or can you stay for the big party tonight?"

"Thanks for the invitation, but it was really an accident that I landed on this steamer; and since I'm a busy woman I better travel while I can," I explained.

"Sorry you can't stay, but here is wishing you a lot of luck. Good-bye."

"Good-bye, Captain."

My, what a perfect day! This is the best day I have had since I started. As evening approaches I find I must stop for the night.

I find I am in Salem, Oregon. Look at the crowd on the street! I'm going to join them. What's all the excitement? I'll go through this mob to see what I can. I discover that Admiral Perry Fisher and Ruth Rogers are leaving on an expedition to Northern Siberia in search of gold. I hope they have as much fun as I have been having. Honestly, this carpet riding is a lot of fun. It is my bed time, so I'll stay at the tourist camp. I hope I can be on my way by seven o'clock because I have a lot of territory to cover. I must make a trip to Alaska.

Next morning at six forty-five I start on my journey. I find myself landing on an ice-skating pond. The skaters are just now coming out. Boy, are they graceful. Every movement that they make is just like the rhythm in a song, and no wonder! Look who it is! Ruth Conrad and Hazel Garber; I never knew either of them could skate, but they are really doing an excellent job.

Shucks, the expedition is over too soon.

Here I have spent one hundred and forty eight hours on this carpet trying to locate all my classmates, and I have been successful. In fact riding this carpet has been so successful that I think Audrey Ieck will take up flying as her vocation.

Who's Who

Who's word is law? --Mr. Davis.
Who knows it: -- Students of M.H.S.

Who could exert more mental reasoning power?
-- Physics class.
Who thinks so? -- Mr. Juday.

Who's "Art" from Churubusco? -- [illegible] "Genny."

Who received a diamond for Christmas? --Lina Belle Vance.
Who knows it? -- Everyone within "flashing" distance.

Who believes in breaking up school property?
-- Howard Swartz.
Who knows it? -- The physics class.

Who switched from a junior to freshman girl?
-- Lowell McClain.
Who knows it? -- The senior class; now we see Lowell once in a while.

Who received a wrist watch for Christmas?
-- Luella Miller.
Who is offering competion? -- Henry Vance.

Who has a boy friend in every branch of the service?
-- Darlene Long.
Who knows it? -- Billy Kehr.

Class poem

"We build the ladder on which we climb."
This was our motto in "thirty nine"
But as we passed through school life,
This motto became a goal for which to strive.
We thank our parents, and teachers, too,
Who stood by us and helped us remain true
To the motto we made in "thirty nine."

And now we find our school days o'er;
Help from the teachers we will have no more,
And as we go out to travel life's road
We will make every effort to live by the code,
That we learned along with the March of Time--
"We build the ladder on which we climb,"
This dear motto we gained in "thirty nine.

-----Luella Miller

Who likes to sit on boys' laps? -- Bud Kline.
Who doesn't appreciate it? -- Wakarusa B.B. players.

Who is the most conspicuous couple in school?
Virginia & Fred; and Arloic & Knute are competing.

Who enjoys selling concessions at B.B. games?
-- Ike and Elva.
Who knows it? -- Members of other committees.

What Would Happen If:

Audrey Berkey wasn't teased so much?
Fred Brock had to go through life without Virginia?
Geraldine Charlton would win world fame for her remarkable artistic ability?
David Dulaney would cast the winning vote to make himself president of the U.S.A.?
Claude Fisher took up the ministry as his profession?
Hazel Garber acquired a doctor's education and became a surgeon?
Wilbur Hostetler became as strong as Sampson, due to the length of his hair?
Audrey Leek would reduce?
Dorothy Livengood couldn't giggle?
Luella Miller didn't have a reasonable answer for everything?
Ruth Rogers couldn't blush?
Robert Rohrer couldn't answer a history question?
Genevieve Rosentrader learned to sing bass?
Dallas Schrock could grow a mustache?
Maxine Schrock succeeded Al Capp as artist of the "Lil Abner" cartoon?
Charlotte Tope learned to tap-dance?
Lina Belle Vance couldn't sneeze?
Junior Wortinger grew a little taller?
Phyllis Lee couldn't think of a joke?
The yell-leaders wouldn't lead the yells so well?
Henry Vance succeeded Superman as America's strongest man?
Joyce Rohrer wrote Laddie Reed a love letter?
Ruth Anna Conrad obtained the honor of being America's best sportswoman?
Lowell McClain would become the President's personal air pilot?
Virginia Yeater didn't study her lessons so thoroughly?
Mervin Miller taught Miss Gangwer how to speak Latin?
Theldon Kline chose Benton as his permanent place of abode?
Raymond Hoffman knocked Joe Louis completely unconscious?
Theda Simmons was selected to be a good example in correct walking posture for soldiers?
The Faculty didn't try so hard to help us see the value of an education?
The Senior Class would set a good example for all lower grades?

Class Grumble

I can readily detect a lot of grumble since the class of '42 has had such perfect pupils. Ahem!

We wish to advise all the underclassmen to secure their birth certificates so they will be able to enter school when they miss a day.

What is the purpose of the large water fountain in the upper hall? It really isn't a very pretty statue. Why not put a handle on it; we may want to use it.

We wish to advise Mr. Juday to secure an armed guard to protect our physics work books. After all, we don't want anything to happen to them.

We wonder why Mr. Bevington can't pay any attention to other classes besides the sophomores. We can't all have you for a sponsor and other pupils like to play basketball just as well.

We wonder if the library is for study or to make students work all the time so as to be able to enter it? After you do get in how can you study with that cute little portable typewriter hammering away like a riveting machine.

We wonder if they couldn't change the school completely around because we have cool rooms in winter, hot rooms in summer, cold water with which to wash and warm water to drink, no time for study and a lot of time for hard subjects, a lot of books in the office and none in the library; very unique I must say, no other school like it.

Why can't they put treads on the stairsteps. That oil is swell to skate on but not to climb stairs; after all, we aren't all acrobats.

Why are all bookkeeping boys kept out of the library by low grades? Does Mr. Blackman like the feminine way better?

Why don't they put cushions on the reserve benches for the basketball players? That bench is so hard.

For what is the cupboard in the assembly hall? It doesn't make a very attractive piece of furniture and it never has anything in it.

We wonder if the cleaning establishments have gone out of business when we look at our flags around school. The cleaning shops probably would be out of business if they depended very largely on things from the school, including the basketball suits.

Why doesn't the school purchase another set of bowling pins - this time for the students. After all, the faculty aren't the only ones who like to bowl.

Why not purchase another bunch of maps; that way we could not get through the library at all.

We wonder why Mr. Davis doesn't get a salesmanship license since he has proved such a good salesman in his classes.

Miss Weigel ought to purchase some new music. The students above her room get so tired listening to her old selections all the time.

We wish to advise Miss Gangwer not to stamp her foot so hard; remember the age of this building. My, my!

We think the school ought to purchase more erasers so we wouldn't have to look at the old announcements from week to week.

Well, this winds up the class grumbles, and I hope it was taken in the manner in which it was given; all in fun.

Junior Advice

The great Genii of the Arabian Deserts has ridden his magic carpet to M.H.S. this year; consequently, the Seniors have chosen him to head our class and to help in Class Night Exercises. He has chosen me to write the "Advise To The Juniors", so I'll do my part to improve that class. I've waited three long years for this chance and I'm certainly not going to pass it up; so here goes.

Juniors, take care of the school property. Act as if there is someone else in the school building besides you. Keep yelling for the team and above all have due respect for the teachers; after all they do know more than you do even if you don't think so. Keep you feet on the ground and your head out of the clouds; you should also study harder and be more quiet. Think about these things and then do them.

The next time the Jr. girls disagree I suggest that they put on boxing gloves and go into the ring. They could entertain us since Joe Louis has gone to the Army, but remember girls, such actions aren't ladylike. Can't you follow the good example the Senior girls have set for you?

Now my best advise goes to each individual of the Jr. Class, since they are in such dire need of it.

Elwyn Arnold should study harder so he can get along better in literature and English classes. Maybe if you would just co-operate a little with the teacher, Elwyn, your looks could get you through the rest of the way.

I advise Berdine Bates to get in earlier. We hate to see you going around school with your eyelids propped open with toothpicks in order to see.

Arlios Bleile had better make up her mind about a certain sr. boy, after all he may change his mind.

If Richard Hartsough would drive a Buick instead of a Ford, he would really be an ideal boy-friend for someone,---a Freshman - maybe?

Roy Hershberger should cease being bashful Get a permanent and grow sideburns and with your acting ability, Roy, you could easily be a second Clark Gable.

Anna Belle Juday, you shouldn't be so secretive about sending Christmas greetings. It would be more thrilling if you delivered them personally. And the very idea of sending two greetings to the same boy. My! My!

Maxine Kauffman's unique gift-of-gab will make her very successful in her public speaking.

Bill Kehr should make up his mind whether he wants to play for Millersburg, or yell for Goshen.

I would advise Phyllis Lee to quit school and raise turkeys. You can sass them all you like and they will just gobble it up.

Virginia Lewallen, why don't you start a "Man Hunt" and find a man that would suit everyone, including yourself. I suggest that he be out of school so the rest of the student body need not watch you show your affections for one another in the halls.

Darlene Long, decide which patch of ground you want. That one about five miles west of Millersburg or the patch in the hills of Pennsylvania.

I suggest that Mary Catherine McKibben stop studying history so much and start making little of her own. Yours will be more interesting, Mary.

LaVern Meese, don't you know that you shouldn't break every boy's heart? I know that practice makes perfect, but if you don't stop practicing you'll end up being a grouchy old maid.

My advice to Donna Belle Miller is that she take up a simple course in mathematics. You can short change the little kids all you want to, Donnie, but the teachers - well I'm afraid it just won't work.

Elva Miller, you might as well go with "Ike" since that little Kansas boy hasn't been putting in his appearance--- Or would some senior boy suit you better?

I don't see any reason for Louise Miller not giving one of the student managers a chance. New Paris is quite a distance from here when we are trying to conserve tires.

Max Miller, decide which girl you want instead of wooing all of them. Perhaps then you will be more successful with the one girl of your choice.

Juniors? Don't tell me! I thought Alice Ruth Rink and Dale Schrock were still in the first grade. I guess it must be an "awful bad" case of puppy-love that makes them act that way.

If Hugh Showalter would bring his report card back to school the day after he received it, his name wouldn't always be on the blackboard under "Report Cards Due."

Donald Whirledge, you may as well go back to Julia since Dale has Alice's time occupied. Don't you know a bargain when you see one?

The way it looks to me, Burdette Wysong should give up the idea of getting Elva. Or Burdette, you might use the Dogpatch style of wooing. That way you could at least reach third base.

Virginia Yeater, if you just keep up on your acting and learn to sing real well, in a few years you can easily be "America's Oomph Girl No. 1."

The next time, Alvin Yoder, that you tangle with a senior boy, you better borrow Alley-Oop's suit of armor.

Dorothy Whirledge, you must certainly believe in the old saying that women are always talking . You better slow down and take it easy. Just think what would happen to you if you suddenly took a serious case of lock-jaw.

Charlene Showalter should mix among the other students more or she will live up to the old saying that "All work and no play makesCharlene a dull girl."

I know that you Juniors can never be the bright and shining examples that the Seniors of '42 have been, but if you use this advice to the best of your ability you may at least have a start.

Advice to Faculty

Considering the fact that the faculty members of M.H.S. seem rather discouraged and impatient at times and on certain occasions they fail to show individual friendship, we the senior class of 42' feel the necessity of imparting a few words of practical advice.

Mr. Weaver, grow up and become a man and try growing a little hair on that bald spot. Remember it makes you appear quite old. Perhaps if you were a trifle taller, your wife could not have snatched you bald headed.

Doesn't Mr. Davis remember the cost of marriage licenses? We know you have been married years, Mr. Davis, and have become a daddy, but it is embarrassing to the students to call the county clerk for informations regarding marriage licenses.

Mr. Juday-we advise you to not exert yourself about the subject of Physics to the seniors. It doesn't seem to do much good; here's hoping better luck next year.

As for Mr. Chenoweth, we would advise you to get a nursemaid or choose another day besides wednesday on which to be ill. Don't you know that students become weary carrying instruments to school on wednesday only to find out that the band instructer is ill?

If Miss Gangwer would walk to school she would keep her school girl figure. And don't forget, Miss Gangwer, we are on the defense program, so you should preserve your tires. Anyhow, we've all have seen your new car.

It would be wise if Mr. Blackman would take Charles Atlas' thirty-day dynamic tension course so he will grow up and can be distinguished from the students.

Miss Bachman, be sure to keep on with your ping pong. You might become a player some day. Besides, M.H.S. should turn out at least one professional.

Mr. Bevington, be just as patriotic for Uncle Sam as you have been for the M.H.S. basketball team.

Since you are an art teacher, Miss McDowell, you should know a green chevrolet would match your license plates so much better than your maroon car.

As for our sponsor, we recommend her for the seniors of next year; of course, Miss Zook, you will not find the ability you found in the class of 42'.

Class Will

We, the class of 1942, in twenty-five individual and distinct parts, do make and publish this, our last will and testament; hereby, making void all former wills or promises made by us at any time heretofore.

To the juniors, we leave our love for physics class.
To the sophomore class, we give our dignity and great importance.
To the freshmen, we leave our trips to the office.
To the incoming freshmen, we leave our places in the classrooms.

As individuals we leave the following:

Fred Brock leaves Virginia to no one. We hope he can keep her.

Audrey Leek wills her ability to ride in Ford V8's to Berdine Bates. After all, a Ford is more economical than an Oldsmobile, Berdine.

Luella Miller wills her late hours to Joyce Rohrer. We are assuming that dark circles under the eyes would look well on a fair compexion.

Dorothy Livengood wills her ability to keep a steady boy friend to Elva Miller

Ruth Rogers leaves her sense of humor to everyone. We realize that after our graduation, M.H.S. will be rather dull; and everyone will need a good sense of humor

Dallas Schrock gives his position as student manager to all who are interested in such inspiring work.

Wilbur Hostetler wills his short hair cut to Henry Vance. Remember, Henry, the price of haircuts has advanced.

David Dulaney gives his egotism to Max Miller. It is better to pat yourself on the back, Max, than to let others do it.

Charlotte Tope wills her quiet manner and musical voice to Virginia Yeater. There must be some dignity in the halls of M.H.S. next year.

Genevieve Rosentrader leaves her vocal talent to Margaret Keckler so there will be one lyric soprano among the student body.

Junior Wortinger leaves his small stature to Junior Cripe. He might become forward on the team.

Claude Fisher wills his happy-go-lucky attitude to Richard Hartsough. Don't take life so seriously, Richard.

Lina Belle Vance wills her cooking ability to Annabelle Juday. Remember, Annabelle, the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Bob Rohrer wills his leadership ability to Leroy Hostetler so that the freshmen can accomplish as great things as the seniors of '42.

Mary Carpenter wills her intelligence to Leland Kauffman. It might get you someplace, Leland.

Theldon Kline wills his good looks to Kenneth Worthman. The girls will need at least one Romeo in M.H.S. after Bud is gone.

Howard Swartz gives his Model A Ford to Dale Schrock. It has really proved to be a friend in need.

Maxine Schrock will allow Annabelle Bates to use her artistic ability and thus enable her to live up to the high art standard Maxine has set.

Ray Hoffman leaves his prize fighter's frame to Glenn Ott. The school will need some protection.

Audrey Berkey gives her bright sayings to Joy Larimer. A few more to her collection won't matter.

Ruth Anna Conrad gives her poise and pleasant personality to Ilene Kline. You will need it to become a dignified senior, Ilene.

Lowell McClain leaves his argumentative ability to Norma Carpenter. He won't need it when he can't argue with the teachers.

Theda Simmons wills her athletic ability to Billy Kehr. Perhaps he can make a name for the team.

Geraldine Charlton wills her blond hair to Phyllis Juday. Gentlemen prefer blonds, Phyllis.

Hazel Garber gives her lost ambition to be a nurse to anyone who wants it.

The witness where of, we, the class of 1942, set our seal this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty two.

Junior Class History

The junior class of 1941-42 started out as freshmen with approximately 40 members. Our officers were as follows:

President----------Melvin Miller
Vice-President----------Louise Miller
Secretary & Treasurer----------Elva Miller
Reporter----------Charles Weston
Sponsor----------Mr. Juday

During this year the sophomores gave us a party which we greatly enjoyed. Our class chose the white rose as our class flower. We also selected our motto, "The road called toil leads to the city of success", and our class colors emerald and white.

The next year we became sophomores and elected the following officers:

President----------Donnabelle Miller
Vice-President----------Louise Miller
Secretary & Treasurer----------La Verne Moese
Reporter----------Max Miller
Sponsor----------Mr. Bevington

Our first party of the year was an initiation party for the freshmen. During the year it was decided to get class sweaters from Dad Harter of Goshen. This year we chose class rings from Mr. William Bigler, who represented the Josten Company.

The year closed with a party on the last day of school at the home of Phyllis Lee.

In the fall of 1941 our class entered school with twenty-seven members. The officers elected were:

President----------Max Miller
Vice-President----------Berdine Bates
Secretary & Treasurer----------Maxine Kauffman
Reporter----------Virginia Yoder
Sponsor----------Mr. Davis

So far we have had one party this year. The junior play, "In the Dog House" was given February 17. The junior and Senior reception is another one of the high features that the juniors are anxiously planning.

As a project to raise money the class has sold candy at basketball games and sponsored a movie entitled, "Boys of the Streets".

The juniors are looking forward eagerly to next year to the task of the senior class and hope to graduate from Millersburg High School with the thought that the class of "43" has left to the underclassmen a history well worth remembering.

Sophomore's Past

As our class entered high school in September, 1940, we received the name "Greenies." But we were proud of this name. It meant we were entering high school, which would be different from all our past years. There were forty three members in our class last year.

Our class was soon organized and the following officers were elected:

President--Kenneth Worthman
Vice-Pres.------Harry Botts
Sec. and Treas.-Betty Kline
Reporter------Jay Showalter
Sponsor--------Miss Bachman

A short time after the beginning of school the sophomores gave an initiation party for us.Our girls were to wear pigtails to the party and the boys were to wear their hair parted in the middle.

We chose the red and white carnation for our class flower. For our class colors we chose red and white.

We had two parties last year. One was at the home of Marjorie Gardner and a weiner roast was held the last day of school. We seem to feel at home more in our new role as sophomores this year. Our class membership has been lowered to thirty three. We organized our class and elected the following officers:

President--Kenneth Worthman
Vice-Pres.------Harry Botts
Sec. and Treas.-Betty Kline
Reporter------Jay Showalter
Sponsor-------Mr. Bevington

This year it was our turn to initiate the freshmen--and it was fun. Later we had the choice of sweaters or jackets with the year we will graduate and our name on them. The majority of the class wanted jackets.

Sophomore's Sketches

We the sophomores of forty-one and forty-two,
Shall describe ourselves as they told us to.
Jr. Cripe is short; Leland Kauffman, tall
Lee Seely and Bill Rohrer are never quiet at all.
Dorothy Wolfe and Beulah Rink are the quieter ones,
Fred Clason and Paul Larimer more suited to guns.
Ilene Kline and Violet Garber continuously
giggle and talk,
Betty Kline and Mike Prough came in packages of bulk.
Allen Fredrickson and Walter Brock are funny-- they think.
Stanley Custer's hair is a shade of red.
For Glenn Ott, history class is something to dread.
Geneva Bickel[illegible] and Margaret Keckler's brain capacities expand,
When asked to reply to a teacher's demand.

Harry Botts and Kenny Worthman have plenty of wit,
Joy Larimer and Norma Carpenter prefer to just sit.
It keeps Kathleen Stroup busy getting her man;
Betty Vance helps with our yells the best she can.
Raymond Gibson and Floyd Phillips are quieter chaps,
Into dreams of the future Marjorie Gardner does relapse.
Evelyn Whipstock and Miriam Hoover are a studying two.
Jay Showalter can cheer you up when you're feeling blue.
Mary Miller depends upon her dad for her wit,
One of these days Chuck Cripe a girl friend will get.
This poem is dippy as you all can see,
Thats reasonable, for its written by me.

Freshmen Personalities

Hats off ! Here comes Mr. LeRoy Hostetler our class president. He is also a prominent basketball player and his favorite subject is agriculture. "Judy" Groff serves as our vice president. Her hobby is collecting stamps. Blue is the favorite color of Margaret Stutzman, secretary and treasurer of our class. She is sometimes called Peggy for short. Our reporter is Joan Graybill. Her favorite dish is mashed potatoes with gravy.

Two fellows who enjoy English class are "Vic" McKibben and Willis Miller. Willis' large mouth and Vic's ability to sing during class don't seem to agree with Miss Zook. Our class tooters are Eileen Gibson and Myrtle Petgen. "Myrt" plays a cornet and "Gibby", a clarinet. Bob Weigel, Mervin Miller, Laddie Reed are the intelligent lads who take Latin. Mervin spent last summer in raising the grand champion 4H Beef Calf. Dorothy LeCount and Joyce Rohrer are from Honeyville. Joyce is our Freshman tomboy. The chubby fellows in our class are Eddie Rogers and Ellis Whirledge. Anyone sitting near Ellis knows he loves to tease.

Geneva Thomas is very much interested in the Navy and no wonder!!! With her, we find Nola Henderson who has been very fond of Syracuse for the last several months. Dark headed Donald Carpenter behaves quite well, for he sits by the teacher's desk.

Some maids from Clinton are Beulah Schrock, Doris Stutzman, Polly Miller, Mary A. Miller, Rosa Miller and Ida Mae Slabach, Sarah Stutzman hails from Rensberger. Most of them must be planning peaceful homes in the country since they enjoy home economics. You can imagine what Junior Yoder is like since his favorite radio program is Henry Aldrich. Short, but full of energy describes Junior Rink perfectly. He and Paul Whirledge are the only boys in our class who belong to the 4-H Elkhart county Beef Calf Club.

Four future farmers from Benton are Valentine Johnson, Galen Darr, Harold Schrock and Charles Willard. Bob Nelson loves to find himself drifting toward Millersburg. Two old maids(in the minstrel) were Carol Berkey and Cora Garber. "Kayo" will quickly bring an end to your griefs while Cora does the opposite. Ora Misley, from Clinton and Edwin Hershberger, formerly of Honeyville, are members of our class. It seems Hershy likes to talk aloud in class, which surely annoys his neighbors.

Someone in our class who is altogether too fond of boys is Delores Pletcher. If you want to hear sweet Hawaiian music see Wayne McGill. He really knows how to handle his guitar. Two gentlemen from Juday also joined our class this year. They go by the names of Dallas Bleile and James Fisel. "Hank" Vance has a lot to say on the subject of fishing. Mildred Bontrager, due to poor health, left our class a few weeks after school started and Margaret Hershberger moved to Shipshewana after being a member of our class ten weeks.

Freshie's magic lantern

While reading "Arabian Nights", I beheld a strange sight. A huge genie appeared before me saying, "What can I do for you?"

"Well, since you're here give me a peek into the lives of my schoolmates eight years from now."

A whirr! a flash of lights, behold! I saw a lovely lady that reminded me of Joyce Rohrer, my old friend. She was posing for two left-handed artists, Laddie Reed and Valentine Johnson. She was a magazine cover girl.

We then go abroad. We find a U.S. Navy battleship sailing for Vosmania, a war-torn country under dictator Tickler. Above all other noise you could hear Junior Rink singing "Anchors Aweigh" as he scrubbed the deck. He was a handsome sailor. While in Vosmania, ace reporter James Fisle, took pictures while bullets whizzed by. At home his wife, Margaret, formerly Miss Stutzman, waited for him. A plane flying for Hawaii, piloted by Edward Rogers, carried Myrtle Petgen and Harold Schrock on their honeymoon.

But home again. Back to M.H.S. where Henry Vance slowly but surely is making his way to the senior class. Doris Stutzman patiently teaches him. Visiting a few homes we find Galen Darr getting a bit angry while wife, Carol, stands by telling him how to paint the house. That night you could hear Edwin Hershberger, now a successful business man, walking the floor with Edwin Jr. while wife, Cora, peacefully slept. Polly Miller and Ora Nisley live outside of town. Rosa and Ida, long married were not heard of much.

The scene shifted to Dr. LeRoy Hostetler who was operating on Charles Willard. He was saying, "I've cut a hole in his stomach! What shall I do?" To which Nurse Eileen Gibson replied, "Glue it up quick!" Mrs. Richard King, (you know Geneva)waited in the outer office with son, Eustice. She saw Nola Henderson and Wayne McGill, now engaged, whiz by doing 75 in a convertible. Soon after Willis Miller, driving an ambulance with two nurses, Sarah and Beulah in back, brought them to Dr. Hostetler. They weren't hurt.

Junior Yoder waited in his grocery store on Ellis Whirledge, who had a large family. Mervin Miller was valedictorian in Goshen College. Robert Nelson, married to Kathleen, farmed north of town. Delores and Julia Groff lived in the Millersburg Hotel where they worked as stenographers for Robert Weigel. Dorothy LeCount and Victor lived on their little farm out of town. Paul Whirledge, Dallas Bleile, and Donald Carpenter were bachelors.

Suddenly a voice said to me, "Say, why don't you sleep in bed instead of in that chair. Don't sit up all night,"--and I was awakened.

Junior High Sketches

When we entered school in September we wondered what this school year would hold for us, what new and interesting things would happen. The eighth grade had new roommates, the seventh grade. The seventh grade had a hard time getting used to Junior High life. In October we had our annual Halloween party which was held at the schoolhouse. Almost all attended. Games were in charge of Patty Leese and Virginia Hoffman. Also in October the eight grade published the first copy of "The Cub," a monthly copy.

November 25, we started out the basketball season by trouncing Juday 29-17. The team is composed of Leonard Lobold, James Brill, James Rogers, Roy Bates, Lowell Byler, Dale Whipstock, Claire Stine, Ted Fruhler, Junior Pfiester, Tom Long, Carlton Stroup and Paul Kink.

In December we had our exams given this year whenever the teacher wanted to. The seventh grade had 16 exams and the eighth grade had 14 exams. The teachers made out the exam themselves. The county superintendent got mixed up and sent out the county exams so both grades had a double amount of exams.

On December 2, New Paris visited the Millersburg gymnasium and returned home with a defeat at the hands of the Cubs 21-20. Also on December 10, the Cubs played Juday, the score being 30-10 in our favor. We traveled to Goshen to play Junior High on December 18. We returned home on the short end of a 29-18 defeat.

We had our Christmas program on the last day of school which was December 23. School started on January 5, 1942 and basketball games were quite numerous. Bethany came here in our gym and defeated the Cubs 20-18. Another game on January 23 and another on January 30 round out January.

In February the eighth grade starts on their annual. A few more basketball games and then the tourney - that is the Junior High tourney composed of a few schools around here.

The eighth grade commencement comes on the last day of school, April 18, and that ends the school year of 1941-42.

Junior Class play

Dogs are not the only ones who occupy doghouses, so the audience learned when the Juniors presented their play, "In the Dog House," before them on February 17.

The cast consisted of:

Hannibal Maxwell---------who finds himself in the doghouse.
Alvin Yoder
Blanche Maxwell----------his wife, who puts him there.
LaVerne Meese
Lanny Maxwell------------their young son.
Max Miller
Dale Maxwell-------------their young daughter.
Virginia Yeater
Sampson Hallet-----------a henpecked neighbor.
Donald Whirledge
Effie Hallet-------------his complaining wife.
Mary Catherine McKibbin
Wendy Ives---------------her young niece.
Alice Ruth Rink
Geraldine Castle---------of the social set.
Elva Miller
Mrs. Beryl August--------a wealthy young widow.
Louise Miller
Dwight Monroe------------a wealthy young man.
Richard Hartsough
Martin Green-------------of The Republic Insurance Co.
Roy Hershberber
May Ward-----------------a waitress.
Darlene Long
Olive Jackson------------who manages to settle a score.
Donna Belle Miller

The story centers around Hannibal Maxwell, his wife, Blanche, and their family. When Hannibal's place of business burns to the ground he doesn't dare acquaint his wife or family with the fact that his insurance policy lapsed a short time before the fire and that he neglected to renew the policy. He tries to borrow the money from his friend and neighbor, Sampson Hallet, but poor, henpecked Sampson informs Hannibal that Mrs. Hallet has all of his money in her name and that she keeps a close watch over it. So Hannibal appeals to his oldest and closest friend, Tom Green, who practices law in New York. Tom has a friend, a Mrs. Beryl August, a wealthy widow who is looking for a safe investment. Mrs. August visits the Maxwell home and Hannibal doesn't dare present her to his wife for fear Blanche will learn about the lapsed insurance policy. He arranges to dine with Mrs. August at the latter's hotel so that he can sell her his plan. Blanche discovers that her husband is seen inthe company of the attractive widow and is greatly upset. The play was a comedy special that was chuckful of fun, brimful of laughter and overflowing with fast-paced scenes from beginning to end.

Senior Class play

"China Boy", a three act play, chosen by the senior class because it was a joyous, rollicking, fast-moving comedy, was presented to an attentive audience on March 24.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Mrs. Parker--a somewhat harassed mother
Ruth Rogers
Will Parker-----her husband and high school principal
Wilbur Hostetler
Annie----------maid of all work; young but not bright
Ruth Anna Conrad
Bill Parker----------their seventeen year old son
Robert Rohrer
Selma Parker----------their sixteen year old daughter
Audrey Berkey
Bob Troutman----------Bill's school chum
Howard Swartz
Lulu Mae Robinson---a twelve year old terrorist
Genevieve Rosentrader
Charlotte Mack--------a wealthy miss
Theda Simmons
George Robinson-------the meanest boy in town
Dallas Schrock
Mark Willis--------a very young philosopher from China
Lowell McClain

Will Parker is the principal of the Middlesboro High School. He and Emily, his wife, are having a rather trying time of it, for their children--Bill, seventeen, and Selma, a year younger--are passing through that trying, troublesome period of adolescence which is a nightmare to most parents. Bill is wrapped up in football, refuses to take his share of the responsibilities around the house. Selma has only one interest in life; she's got her heart absolutely set on winning the Middlesboro Munchie--Crunchie Ice Cream Company's Popularity Contest. And that's the way things stand when, suddenly one summer morning, they get a letter from China! The letter is from Emily's sister, a missionary's wife, and informs them that her son Mark is being sent on the Parkers to continue his education in America. Well, Mark arrives. Very shortly Will and Emily are wondering how they ever got along without him. But Bill and Selma--they'd just as soon he were back in China, or anywhere but in their home. He isn't regular, he doesn't fit in. Then Lulu Mae Robinson takes Mark under her protective wing. He's got to stop being a "goody-goody," she tells him--he's got to get in wrong with his aunt and uncle; then the young folks will welcome him as one of themselves. Mark finally establishes himself as being "regular" only after every possible laugh is extracted from this richly comic situation.

READING AND ORATORICAL

These are the winners of the 1941 contest:

Reading Contest
1st--- Geraldine Gibson
2nd--- Theda Simmons
3rd--- Alice Ruth Rink

Oratorical Contest
1st--- Ruth Rogers
2nd--- Juanita Cripe
3rd--- Ava Stiver

Each year Mr. C. M. Immel sponsors a Reading and Oratorical contest in memory of his son who at one time attended Millersburg High School. The two winners are presented with trophies upon which their names are engraved. The trophies are then turned back to the school to be shown in the hall trophy case. The contest will continue indefinitely and any student is eligible to participate.

TO HELP LIGHT YOUR PATH TO SUCCESS

Students everywhere are finding that lessons can be mastered more quickly when there's a certified I.E.S. Specification Lamp to help them with their homework. Reading's done more easily, quickly and accurately. Facts are remembered better. There's less unconscious straining to see and eyes are thus proctected from unnecessary fatigue due to poor lighting.

A nationally famous professional group of lightning engineers, the Illuminating Engineering Society, drew up specifications for these lamps which are now made by many manufacturers. Look for the certification tag of approval identifying I.E.S. Lamps.

Whatever the style of your desk or study table at home, you can find an I.E.S. Lamp to suit it beautifully. There are table, floor and bridge types . . . some of the latter with a handy swing arm to adjust perfectly over a drawing board or sewing table. Ask for I.E.S. Lamps to make your seeing easier . . . and to help light your path to success.

INDUSTRIAL PAINTERS
SPRAY PAINTING

PAINTING — DECORATING — PAPER HANGING

Rogers Industrial Painters started in the painting and decorating business eighteen years ago with one model "T" truck. The business has developed and expanded to the point where the company now services the territory within a radius of 350 miles and employs as many as 32 men, using nine trucks. Rogers Industrial Painters confine most of their work to industrial contracting and are reported to be the largest operator of this type in the middle west.
